

Denise McGaha, principal of Denise McGaha Interiors, presents a signature look that encompasses classic tradition with contemporary sensibility. Her incomparable style and supremely functional design has earned her accolades from loyal clients and the interior design industry, itself.

Denise offers her discriminating clientele a true luxury experience. For over ten years, Denise has led a disciplined team of professionals, dedicated to providing each client with the ultimate level of opulence, comfort and gratification.

The highest standard of expectation is maintained by her consistent educational endeavors: global travel, sourcing expert artisans, participating in nation-wide industry events and networking throughout complimentary industries, such as fine art and couture fashion. This seamless blending of multiple interests allows Denise to offer her affluent clients access to Dallas' best-kept secret: her black book of high-end concierge services.

Denise's sophisticated methodology and solid business acumen evolved through her decade in the corporate landscape of luxury retailer, Neiman Marcus, where she honed her well-trained eye, and was an integral part of the team that launched NeimanMarcus.com.
